

Prayers for the Month of January

5th January

Creator of the heavens, who led the Magi by a star to worship the Christ-child:
guide and sustain us,
that we may find our journey's end
in Jesus Christ our Lord.

19th January

Eternal Lord,
our beginning and our end:
bring us with the whole creation to your glory, hidden through past ages and made known
in Jesus Christ our Lord.

12th January

Heavenly Father,
at the Jordan
you revealed Jesus as your Son:
may we recognise him as our Lord and know ourselves
to be your beloved children;
through Jesus Christ our Saviour.

26th January

God of all mercy,
your Son proclaimed
good news to the poor,
release to the captives,
and freedom to the oppressed:
anoint us with your Holy Spirit and set all your people free to praise you in Christ our Lord.

from their homeland. It's one thing to curiously study the night sky, quite another to bother to follow a strange object within it. Something about that star gripped their attention. They arrive in Jerusalem, and this long-awaited king is not there! They arrive in the most humble of villages and find that here He is: the one who moved the planets to align with each other and create the very light they've followed. He's now lying in an animal's feeding trough! As they marvel at this unexpected scene, all the magi can do is worship at the feet of a toddler (what did that look like?). They'd never forget this scene and their lives would be changed for ever.

Like the Magi, we're all on a journey of faith. At what stage is yours? Are you still 'tracking the night sky of your faith', excited and curious as to what God might show you next about Himself, about you, about His calling upon your life? Are you asking God questions about where you can find a deeper sense of Jesus in your life? Are you, digging deeper into His Word - the very place where we discover Him, and about how He calls each of us to live with the hope He's given? What could this story of the Magi be saying about your relationship with God at the start of this new year?

'Vicar's Thoughts' for January

'Happy New Year!' 'Happy new decade!' What an opportunity to begin afresh with God, to travel deeper with Him, to be curious about Him, and not simply hold onto gospel stories we're all so familiar with. Our first Sunday of the year is marked by the season of Epiphany - a season of awe and wonder, as we reflect upon the visit of the Magi to Bethlehem. But boy, is it a story that has been drummed into us by the over-familiarity and exposure to all those nativity plays and Christmas cards! There's so much we actually don't know about this particular story, but a little digging does take us slightly deeper into what it might actually have looked like for Mary, Joseph and Jesus, on that first Christmas when strangely dressed men from the East turned up to visit.

These travellers arrive to find the child king in a tiny one or two roomed house in a backwater village of Judea. Remember, the New Testament was written in Koine Greek, the common language of most people in that region at that time. In Matthew's account of the birth of Jesus, we tend to translate the place Mary gave birth in, as an 'inn', but the Greek word kataluma better translates as a 'guest room' within a house. Because there were people staying in the guest room already, Jewish custom would not have turfed out the other guests inhospitably, but something had to be done to accommodate this pregnant lady! Did Joseph know the people who owned the house? Perhaps this house belonged to one of his relatives...after all, he hailed from Bethlehem. That's why they'd travelled there to pay Emperor Augustus' census.

So, it would seem that Mary and Joseph were 'upgraded' into the house owner's living quarters. Indeed, it wasn't unusual for animals to be kept at night in the main part of a person's house, so this might account for how Jesus was 'laid in a manger': it having been pragmatically placed there for the animals! And so when these Magi turn up, Matthew now refers to Jesus as 'the child'. So, unlike how the Christmas cards depict it, we're not really talking about a baby here, we're talking about a toddler - a toddler king! We've moved on a couple of years, which is why Herod gives his hideous death order regarding all children two and under. And so by now, the holy family would have probably settled in quite nicely into the house owner's place. (I'd argue that they actually were staying with relatives).

Anyway, you may or not find the background to these events interesting, but I wonder - as we enter the season of Epiphany - what of the person of Jesus is drawing you closer to Him? The Magi's curiosity took them a long, long way
